

About Multiform's role and responsibilities

Multiform simply makes its website available for private individuals who would like to advertise their Multiform kitchens for sale, so that the kitchens can benefit others and create enjoyment in new homes.

The sale of used kitchens takes place between the private seller and the private buyer, is subject to the Danish Sale of Goods Act and can be considered a private sale.

The kitchens are not sold by Multiform and Multiform assumes no liability of any kind in respect of the seller or the buyer, including liability for the accuracy of the seller's information, quality of the used kitchen, etc. Complaints or objections from the parties concerning the kitchen and the parties' transaction cannot under any circumstances be directed at Multiform. The buyer and seller must agree on the further details of the transaction, implement it and handle any conflicts themselves. Multiform is simply a facilitator by way of providing functions on the website to establish contact between the buyer and seller.

Multiform reserves the right to refuse to add a seller's information to the website and may, at any time and with no liability, remove specific posts and information about kitchens from the website without providing a reason.

Multiform does not guarantee availability on the website, nor does it guarantee that there will not be any operating issues, the website may also be unavailable from time to time due to maintenance, etc. Errors may occur or the information provided by the seller and published on the website by Multiform may be incomplete. This will be corrected when Multiform has been made aware, but any liability for such errors, omissions and defects associated with the website itself is waived and the seller is encouraged to always check whether the information on the Multiform website concerning the seller's kitchen is correct.

Multiform processes personal data about the seller in connection with the seller's use of the Multiform service. Multiform's Privacy Policy, available here, applies to the processing of such personal data.

Your responsibilities as a seller

You must have a genuine intention to sell if you wish to use the Multiform service. As a seller, you are responsible for ensuring that you own the kitchen you are advertising for sale and, as a seller, you are liable to the buyer pursuant to the requirements set down in law.

As a seller, you must ensure that you own the rights to the pictures of the kitchen that you submit and we recommend taking pictures that do not depict people. You are responsible for the information you submit and for ensuring it is correct. Important information, e.g. concerning damage or defects, must not be omitted. If you subsequently become aware of errors in the information about the kitchen on the Multiform website, please contact Multiform immediately so that it can be corrected. The fact that materials, etc., are submitted to Multiform and uploaded to the website by Multiform does not involve any clearing of rights or any assurance of any kind on the part of Multiform concerning the lawfulness of the use of the materials. We expect that you, as a seller, will handle enquiries from potential buyers in a respectful and serious manner. As a seller, you may not give potential buyers the impression that you are a Multiform employee, agent or reseller or that you, in any way, represent or are authorised to enter into agreements on behalf of Multiform.

When the kitchen has sold or you no longer wish the information to be available on the Multiform website, please contact Multiform as soon as possible so that we can remove the content, so that you no longer receive enquiries from interested buyers.
